Council Acts; Local Market Told To Clean Premises

H. E. Lorenzini, food and drugs inspector of the State Department of Agriculture; Alex G. Robinson, county sanitary inspector, and Stephen M. Anderson, inspector for the county board of health last Tuesday, made a detailed inspection of the Marin City Market. The action was taken at the request of the improvement committee of the Marin City Council.

Following the inspection Anderson sent the following letter to L. Nichols, market operator:

"A detailed inspection was made of your Marin City Market on August 15.

"This inspection was made as a result of numerous complaints concerning the presence of flies, foul odor, and dirty conditions in the market.

"The following recommendations are made:

"(1) Adequate facilities for meat cutting must be provided. The kitchen room, formerly used for the delicatessen shop, should be converted into a hamburger and grinding room by means of a passageway to present grinding room which could then be used for breaking and cutting.

"(2) The doorways into the two back rooms should be screened to provide ventilation and yet exclude flies.

"(3) Adequate ventilation must be provided to do away with present odor. We suggest that the cover over windows be replaced with one that can be regulated. The windows in the back room should be screened so that they may be left open for ventilation, and if possible, left open all night.

"(4) Doors should be made self-closing — all openings must be screened.

"(5) Walls behind the meat grinder, counter, etc., must be made impervious so they may be washed down daily.

"(6) All equipment and utensils must be kept clean at all times.

"You are hereby given 30 days to take care of these matters. We hope to have your immediate cooperation so that legal action will not be necessary."

The Council Improvement Committee urged all residents to hold any meat which they may consider questionable for inspection by a member of the county health department. Telephone of the health department is San Rafael 641.

'Christmas Mail Month' For Overseas in September

Mail and shop early for Christmas may at this time seem an idea a little previous, yet the War Department is saying just that in regard to Christmas packages to be sent overseas. The dates set for the mailing of these bundles is September 15 to October 15, and during that time only will civilians be able to send packages weighing over eight ounces to men and women now in the armed forces outside of the United States.

The War Department, through the local post offices, is urging that every effort be made to get the packages out during the set period as a later date will mean that some soldier, sailor, or marine will be without his Christmas from home.

At the same time the War Department announced that Christmas cards do not have to be sent during the coming 30-day period, but stated that they must be mailed as early as possible. It was also pointed out that cards going overseas must be in sealed envelopes and prepaid at the first-class rate for postage.

REQUIREMENTS

Christmas gift packages will be accepted for mailing only within the present limitations of weight and size for requested overseas mailing—5 pounds in weight, 15 inches in length, and 36 inches in length and girth combined. The package must bear the endorsement "Christmas Parcel"; without this mark it would be classified for regular overseas mailing which calls for a letter of request from the serviceman or woman.

The packages should be packed in metal, wood, solid fiberboard, or strong, double-faced, corrugated fiberboard to withstand storage and transportation damage. It is also necessary that the boxes be wrapped with strong paper and tied with heavy duty twine to insure safe arrival.

CONTENTS

Perishables, intoxicants, inflammable materials (including matches of all kinds and lighter fluids), and poisons are unmailable. The mailing of fragile articles is discouraged by the War Department.

as well as the Postal Department.

No mail matter (this will include Christmas packages) addressed to members of the armed forces overseas will be accepted as insured or C.O.D. mail. The reason for this ruling is the possible loss through sinkings of the mail as well as the dual responsibility of mail handling by the regular postal system and the various services postal departments.

ADDRESSES

It is necessary that the Christmas packages bear the following information on the address: name, rank, serial number, service organization and unit, APO number and the port of embarkation through which the mail is to be routed. For example:

Pvt. John Q. Doe, ASN 123456789
Company F, 999th Infantry
APO 000, c/o Postmaster
New York City, N.Y.

Other than the address and return address the package can bear no small stickers which might be confused with stamps, but can carry large stickers, such as "Merry Christmas", "Do Not Open Until Christmas", and "Happy New York." The address itself should be written either in ink or, preferably, on a typewriter.

If gifts in the form of money is wished to be sent to the service personnel overseas it is desired, especially by the Army Postal Service, that it be in the form of money orders. Reason given for this is that in the majority of areas there is a local prohibition against the use of American currency and therefore the money cannot be used; however, a money order can be cashed by the service man or woman so that he or she will receive the local foreign currency.

Church Group Holds Picnic

About thirty youngsters enjoyed a picnic at the Mill Valley Park Wednesday, planned for them by the Church Committee for their help in selling the Marinship Pictorial. Hot dogs, potato chips, pickles, watermelon, pop and cookies vanished quickly.

There were races, with candy bars as prizes, wading, and a ball game. Richard Del Tredici fell in the creek and had to be "dried out" in a pair of girl's slacks, much too big. No picnic is complete without one such mishap.

Everyone had a grand time. And, what's more, the grown-ups all said they had never seen a better-behaved group of children — and they meant it!

Gas Ration Renewal Open

In a few days applications for renewals of "A" books will be available at service stations and local OPA boards throughout Marin, according to an announcement made Tuesday by the district office in San Francisco. At the same time local board chairman announced that "A" book holders should keep their present coupon books as they must be sent in with the renewal form R-534.

Due to the large number of "A" books which will have to be renewed it will be impossible for the local boards to handle the work over the counter, therefore it is necessary that each applicant fill in the required form and mail it to his local ration board accompanied by the back cover of the current "A" book and the vehicle's tire inspection record.

Issuance of the "A" gasoline renewals will begin officially from the local boards on Friday, August 23. These books will provide the same monthly ration as the present books—eight gallon or approximately 120 miles per month. However, the coupons in the books will be worth four gallons each instead of three, the value of the present coupons. Six of these four gallon "A" coupons will become valid every three months, and it is expected that the first period will begin on September 22.

IF ANY Hollywood movie lays an egg this year it will surely be a golden one, 'cause our movie moguls have cooked up the most elaborate, ambitious, and expensive program in the history of this industry.

The period 1943-44 is known as the Year of the Big Take in movie circles. Box office returns hit a new high, exceeding even producers' wildest nightmares.

If there ever was a time when movie men could get away with a slap-dash product, now is that time. But, true to the counter-clockwise method of working, for which they take so much ribbing, the boys are planning films with multimillion budgets and enough star names in the cast to choke a horse. Well, that's Hollywood for you.

Darryl Zanuck, never one to do anything by halves, wiped all B pictures off the slate and came up with two super-films—"Wilson" and "The Keys of the Kingdom"—which top anything before attempted in size, outlay, and big-name casts. "The Keys of the Kingdom" is the logical Academy award rival to "Wilson," since it is in black and white and the latter in technicolor, which makes both films eligible for the Oscar. "The Keys" also has an all-star cast, although Gregory Peck and Rosa Stradner, who play the most important roles, have each had but one previous Hollywood film experience. But they've both had fine theatrical training.

In Lighthearted Vein

With these two films as a sample, and the B's thrown into the discard, Twentieth's staff of producers has had some reorganizing to do, but quick. The upshot is a program leaning heavily on musicals—extravagant musicals that will rival the biggest attractions on Broadway.

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer has much the same idea. It's going to be a struggle in this era of super-productions to see whether William Perlberg's musical can outdo Jack Cummings' "Little Bit of Heaven." Or whether "The Ziegfeld Follies," into which Arthur Freed has thrown the two top dancing men of the world today—Fred Astaire and Gene Kelly—plus Fanny Brice, Jimmy Durante, Judy Garland, John Hodiak, Lena Horne, James Melton, Marion Bell, Victor Moore, Mickey Rooney and Red Skelton, can make a bigger noise than Perlberg's "State Fair," for which Richard Rodgers and Oscar Hammerstein have written music which Twentieth claims will out-Oklahama "Oklahama."

Say It With Music

Ira Gershwin and Kurt Weill are responsible for the tunes in "Where Do We Go From Here," Morrie Ryskind's story of a 4-F. Agnes De Mille, C. B.'s talented niece, will do the dance routines.

Metro has an answer to this in "Music for Millions," in which Jose Iturbi and Margaraet O'Brien are drawing cards. With Larry Adler's harmonica, Jimmy Durante and Hugh Herbert for laughs, how can it lose? Warners have "Hollywood Canteen," also "Rhapsody in Blue," the story of George Gershwin's life.

Georgie Jessel is music-minded, too. His "Kitten on the Keys" calls for a hunk of stars. Includes Dick Haymes, Perry Como and both Benny Goodman and Jimmy Dorsey.

That Lubitsch Touch

Ernst Lubitsch's main concern centers about "Czarina," the satiric comedy which will be Talulah Bankhead's next. Charles Coburn has been signed to play the chancellor.

Poignant scene from Franz Werfel's "The Song of Bernadette," new Fox sensation with Jennifer Jones, William Eythe and Charles Bickford.

"To do everything in our power to help win the war. To promote the welfare and community spirit of Marin City."

JAMES SAN JULE, Editor.
DOROTHY SMITH, City Editor.
JESS DRAPER, Advertising Manager.

"The Marin Citizen" is delivered each week to the homes of more than 6000 war workers and their families. It is the only newspaper published in the second largest city of Marin County.

Subscription Rate: $2.50 a year. Advertising rates on application

Vote Wednesday

Next Wednesday all Marin City residents will have a chance to vote for their member of their City Council.

There is a contest in only one district. Nevertheless, voters from all districts should go to the Community Center sometime during the day and cast their ballot for the councilman of their choice.

Marin City is one of the few housing projects in the country where an elected city council represents the people of the community. Because this is so we have been able to solve many of the problems which hinder pleasant living conditions in other similar cities.

It is hard to imagine Marin City without its City Council. It is hard to realize the many harassments which we would suffer if it were not for the alert and intelligent way in which the City Council here has solved questions which have been brought before them.

Any resident above the age of 18 can vote on Wednesday. No residence requirements are necessary—and you don't have to pay a poll tax.

Why don't you exercise your American right to vote and cast your ballot on Wednesday?

Letters To The Editor

DEAR EDITOR:—

Is there anyone in Marin City who isn't dissatisfied with our meat market? No woman of my acquaintance buys meat in Marin City if she can possibly go to Mill Valley or Sausalito, or have someone with a car shop for her. Each week many hundreds of dollars are spent at the markets in surrounding towns that would willingly be spent right here in Marin City with a butcher who sold meat comparable in quality to that we find elsewhere.

Then, to insult our intelligence, the grocery and vegetable departments ask the highest prices possible for their items.

When I ask my favorite butcher up the highway not so far if he has time to grind some chuck steak for me, he says: "Surely, we'll be glad if you have time to wait." That comes near to being heart-warming after the take-it-or-leave-it attitude of the Marin City market.

The conditions in our Marin City food store should also be the concern of other Marin City merchants, for where housewives do their grocery shopping they also make other purchases.

MRS. JULIA K. HOBSON,
HOUSE 134.

DEAR EDITOR:—

I noticed by your Soap Box column in last week's Citizen that people are very dissatisfied with conditions at the local market. I am glad this has come to your attention. I, too, have been hearing a lot of complaint from my friends and neighbors.

About a month ago I purchased a package of a standard brand of pancake flour for 78 cents. I had previously purchased an identical package at a Sausalito store for 59 cents.

The difference was so outstanding I determined to find out the ceiling price. I learned that the Sausalito store had made a mistake and that 69 cents was their ceiling price, and 74 cents the highest price possible for the Marin City store to a charge without violation, according to the statistics consulted.

I reported to the Price Panel at Mill Valley and submitted the evidence.

A few days later I investigated what seemed to be a price violation on Pyrex Ware at the local department store. I made a purchase and presented it with evidence to the Price Panel, also.

I submit herewith letters from the Price Panel stating their official findings and my rights in the matter. I intend to exercise the right to prefer charges in the small claims court. (Mrs. Percy did file suit this week in both cases.)

I agree that general conditions of the meat market are very unappetizing and the quality of the meat inferior; that the attitude of employees there and in the vegetable market is certainly not conducive to friendly relations with the public.

MRS. MILTON PERCY.

(Ed. Note: Following is a letter received by Mrs. Percy from Mrs. Lyle Leiser, chairman of the price panel of the local OPA board. The letter is one in reference to the purchase Mrs. Percy made at the Marin City Department Store.)

"In connection with your complaint about the price for one 6x10 (interior) Pyrex baking dish at the Marin City Department Store, this is to inform you that the proprietor of this store was interviewed by the Local Price Panel on July 20, 1944.

"The proprietor stated that his Pyrex items had been priced by the salesman from whom they were purchased. The Price Panel checked the cost of this item at Albert's Department Store in Mill Valley. Albert's is the competitor whose prices were used to establish ceilings at the Marin City Department Store. The permitted ceiling at Albert's is 50 cents; therefore, it is the opinion of the Price Panel that you were overcharged 15 cents.

"Upon being informed of the fact that his Pyrex was incorrectly priced, proprietor of the Marin City Department Store discontinued all sales and will not display these items again until all correct ceiling prices are established.

"The Panel believes this was an unintentional price violation since it would seem logical to believe that the salesman would have been familiar with the correct retail ceiling price. However, under the provisions of the Price Stabilization Act of 1944, it is your privilege to sue for the amount of the overcharge or $25, which ever is larger. If you prefer, you may ask for a refund from the Marin City Department Store.

"We thank you for bringing this to our attention."

DEAR EDITOR:—

I am one that wishes to join in protest of high prices at our market. Three weeks ago my boy who does the buying for the house was over-charged

Statements of Candidates

Below are statements by candidates for election to the Marin City Council next Wednesday. There is a contest in only one district—District C, where Thomas Roberts, incumbent, is opposed by Dan Allen, former chairman of the council. Read the statements, make your choice, and be sure to vote on Wednesday. Ballot boxes will be at the Community Center all day.

Thomas Roberts

HOUSE 111—DISTRICT C

"I am seeking reelection on the platform of fairness. Apparently there are some who are so bigoted or narrow that they see nothing but what they wish to see. Too many times certain individuals look after their own selfish interests instead of the good of Marin City when they act in the capacity of Councilman. If elected I shall support the church and all the other fine organizations here that are obviously working for a good cause.

"I believe in taking a stand on the side that I believe is right, and I shall be guided by the voters and the good of Marin City shall be my pursuit."

Dan Allen

HOUSE 133—DISTRICT C

"I am asking the citizens of District C, which includes all houses from 1 to 353, to return me to the Marin City Council because I feel there are a number of jobs which need to be done in the near future to better our community.

"It is my feeling that the friendly cooperation of all of us can secure more adequate recreational facilities for our youngsters, can clear up what seems to be another bad situation at our local market and can generally make Marin City a more comfortable place in which to live.

"I am asking District C residents to vote for me next Wednesday because I sincerely believe I can give them honest and experienced representation on a body which benefits all of us."

for a chicken, but on my protest was refunded a dollar.

More recently my wife purchased a basket of peaches, not knowing that I was in Sausalito and bought a basket of peaches of the same kind and size. She paid 70 cents and I paid only 50 cents for the basket I bought.

So let's check on the market and change again if necessary.
J. W. WALTON,
House 354.

DEAR EDITOR:—

I am wondering why Marin City doesn't have a theatre or some sort of good clean entertainment for boys and girls. They work in the shipyard and after working hours they have nothing to do. The buses are overloaded to take them to and from the towns where there are good shows and even if they weren't, who can afford the price of the show and the fare both ways? And who wants to go to all this trouble after a day's work? But what are they to do?

I think Marin City needs a home theatre or a sort of Dinty Moore's place, with good clean games, music, dancing, reading and group singing.

I have a son 17 years old who works and being restless after working hours just must have something to do besides gaze out at the bay; therefore, he goes "bussing" to a show, and it takes dynamite to get him up and at work the next morning. A nice homey theatre would keep the young folks satisfied and they would be home and in bed at a decent hour and do a good job at work, besides.

NAME WITHHELD BY REQUEST.

(Ed. Note: This mother should investigate the Teen-er Club activities every night at Building 399, Marin City. Much of what she asks for is being done there by teen-agers who have a lot of fun doing it. If she will get in touch with Mrs. Earl James at House 357 she can get further information about the Teen-er Club activities.)

Alex Murphy

A 25-194—DISTRICT A

"I am now up for third term as representative on the Marin City Council from our district.

"I stand on my record alone. I have served you faithfully in the battle for justice, comforts and legal rights.

"Now we are in the battle for Americanism, which must be won at home and abroad. It is a battle to improve the welfare of the children, to have a better and fuller life than our parents had.

"Like liberty, Americanism can be had only at the cost of eternal vigilance.

"Yesterday's victory, unless it lives and grows and meets the demands of a changing time may well harden and become tomorrow's defeat.

"Today Americanism which started out as a symbol of a limited democracy has grown beyond the limitations of creed, race, wealth and sex. In this realm alone, our democracy has so expanded as to include almost every individual who is capable of the responsibilities of citizenship.

"Americanism is the life of our land and of its citizens. We are all of us growing into tomorrow. And Americanism will be our credo, then as now.

"To make Marin City a better place to live in, let us all fight for Americanism. Your support and votes will be very much appreciated."

W. C. Billingsley

A 15-116—DISTRICT A

"I am, and have been since its organization following our first local election, a member of the Marin City Council from District A, the northern half of the apartment area.

"The Constitution of Marin City empowers Council to 'speak and act as the only recognized agency of the people of Marin City, and to bargain for them' and I believe that as this power becomes better known and understood, AND USED, by the people whom Council represents, we can not fail to have a stronger agency for the improvement of general living conditions here and more satisfactory results from Council activities.

"Regular Council meetings are announced in our paper, The Marin Citizen, and Council very much desires you to attend its meetings and to bring to its attention, or at least to that of your Councilmen, any matters which you feel should be handled by it in the interests of the community.

"If I am returned to Council at the election on August 23rd I expect to continue to represent the people of Marin City generally, and those of District A particularly, and to advance their community interests to the best of my ability.

"I am Council Treasurer and Chairman of the Community Fund and Welfare Committee, also a member of the Editorial and House Committees. At the yard I am a shipwright, days, with the 10-Day Flying Squad, and lunch under Way 3. Am usually at home between 5 and 7 p.m."

A Year Ago In Marin City

(From The Marin Citizen files of August 20, 1943.)

VOLUNTEER FIREMEN

The first meeting of the Marin City Volunteer Firemen was held this week. Ten men from the day and graveyard shifts were selected from applications to receive training.

RUMMAGE — A big rummage sale, sponsored by the Marin City Womens' Club was held all day Friday and Saturday at the new school building.

USO—The local USO Travelers' Aid office had aided 500 people during the first six months of its work here. The national association considers this unit so valuable to the people who need its help here that it has been decided to keep it operating for the duration," says Mrs. Marie Larson, director.

BIRTHDAY — Marin City will have its first birthday party on the night of September 4, complete with all the trimmings. A high spot of the celebration will be an exhibit of work carried on by all of Marin City's organizations.

SEA SCOUTS—Skipper Art Walenta announces that the Marinship War Fathers Club has adopted Marin City's Sea Scout ship. This sponsorship assures their getting a charter.

LIBRARY—Marin City's library has gained 153 new subscribers and circulated 2016 books during the month of July.

SCHOOL BOARD — The chairman of the Sausalito School Board resigned. In her resignation she suggested that her successor be appointed from Marin City.

DEAR EDITOR:—

For the benefit of the people of Marin City who did not attend the rent protest meeting, may I say that the coverage in The Marin Citizen was very good.

No mention was made, however, of the councilmen of Districts A and B who were responsible for the meeting and for the very great interest shown therein.

These councilmen are W. C. Billingsley, M. Percy, E. Anderson, J. Draper, A. Murphy and E. James. The apartment residents owe them a vote of thanks, and are indeed fortunate in their choice of representatives.

Special mention is due Mr. Billingsley, Mr. and Mrs. M. Percy, Mr. Berry and Mr. Anderson for the courage they displayed during the meeting and for their ability to let those in authority know that the people here had a reasonable and justified grievance. Sincerely,

WALTER DEL TREDICI,
House 131.

DEAR EDITOR:—

The following letter was received by the church committee this week from R. W. Adams, employee relations manager of Marinship. Mr. Adams' letter follows:

"My dear Mrs. Del Tredici: "On behalf of Marinship, may I express our appreciation and thanks for handling a very successful sale and distribution of the Marinship Pictorial Booklet. I couldn't help but view with pleasure the interest and cooperation that you and your co-workers exercised in the gate sales which I witnessed. The children did a good job also. The husbands helped. It seemed to be very spirited effort on the part of all.

"A check in the amount of $374.29 is enclosed. Mr. Sherwood Hall will deliver this to you personally.

"May we extend our best wishes for the happiness and enjoyment of you and your associates in the use of your re-finished and rebuilt church."
